

1,800 individuals to 8,200, its budget increased, and it established regional councils. Additionally, the Massachusetts chapter was the first in the nation to start a committee on Ethnic and Racial Affairs and a committee on lesbian/gay/bi-sexual/transgender issues. The Massachusetts Chapter was also the first to launch a Social Work Therapy Referral Service, a free clinical consultation service, and a member-to-member supervision program.

Dr. Brill's belief in the importance of social workers' active involvement in civic affairs led to the growth of social work's visibility in the advocacy world, the State Legislature, and the State administration. Dr. Brill was a founder of the Massachusetts Human Services Coalition, a major advocacy organization for more funding for human services, and she currently serves as its vice president. Dr. Brill also serves as treasurer of the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center, an organization which fights for fairer taxation in Massachusetts, and is co-chair of the Committee to Save the Department of Social Services and Our Children.

Dr. Brill's expertise in social work ethics made her a national expert on the subject. She has been a keynote presenter, workshop leader, or panelist around the country. Dr. Brill has also provided consultation and organized in-service training courses on a variety of issues for several agencies in New England such as the Salvation Army and the Boston Public Schools.

Dr. Brill's commitment to the field of social work and the people of Massachusetts has been remarkable. Mr. Speaker, I am certain that the entire House of Representatives joins me in congratulating Dr. Brill for all that she has accomplished and in wishing her the best during retirement.

RECOGNITION OF THE J.M. SMUCKER COMPANY

HON. RALPH REGULA

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Mr. REGULA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the J.M. Smucker Company. The Ohio-based Smucker Company was recently ranked number one on Fortune Magazine's annual "Top 100 Companies to Work For" list.

Founded in 1897 in Orrville, Ohio, Smucker sold its first product—apple butter—from the back of a horse drawn wagon. Today, the company is the market leader for an array of fruit spreads, toppings, beverages and natural foods. Smucker employs some 2,430 people in the U.S. and maintains 12 manufacturing plants worldwide.

Since its inception in 1897, the Smucker Company has grown to earn a national reputation as a premier and model employer. Sustaining job security and stability for employees even through difficult economic times has been a recurring theme in the company's success. In fact, Smucker has never resorted to layoffs to cope with a lagging economy. Still, Smucker continues to enjoy great success. Sales for the company are up 91 percent from last year alone.

I applaud the J.M. Smucker Company for this recognition as an exemplary employer and I wish it continued growth and prosperity.

TRIBUTE TO DIANA POULTON

HON. KEN CALVERT

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and honor an individual who has been a tireless supporter of education in my congressional district. My congressional district has been fortunate to have dynamic and dedicated community leaders who willingly and unselfishly give their time and talent and make their communities a better place to live. Diana Poulton is one of these individuals.

Over the last four years, Diana has been actively involved with the Science and Technology Education Partnership (STEP), a non-profit organization dedicated to inspiring students to pursue science and technology careers. As the Honorary Chairman of STEP, I have witnessed first-hand Diana's deep commitment and dedication to building a brighter future for students in the Inland Empire.

The flagship program for STEP is the annual STEP Conference, which hosts thousands of 4th through 8th grade students at a fun-filled learning event dedicated to the exciting world of science and technology. This conference puts thousands of students in contact with some of the top science and technology companies and organizations, which they might otherwise never experience in their school career. With the increasing demands for science and technology workers and the diminished supply in our region, the STEP Conference is one of the largest in California and serves as a spark to ignite the imagination of young minds.

This successful conference takes a great amount of time and energy to plan and Diana is an integral part in the planning and execution of the event. It is not uncommon for her to work after-hours to ensure the conference will be a success. Not only is she an inspiration to the students but also to the volunteers who know they can count on her to answer their questions or help them in any way. Diana serves a vital role to the STEP organization and I commend her commitment to STEP, students and education. As a member of the Science Committee, I am thankful for people like Diana Poulton because she sets an example that will serve as a guiding light for others in the future.

Diana's tireless passion for community service has contributed immensely to the betterment of the Inland Empire in Southern California. She is part of the heart and soul of STEP and I am proud to call her a fellow community member, American and friend.

HONORING THE RUTHERFORD COUNTY CHAMBER OF COM- MERCE'S 75TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 75th anniversary of the Rutherford County, Tennessee, Chamber of Commerce, an organization that has helped my home country to be one of the best places in America to live.

As a member of the Chamber of Commerce and former board director, I know firsthand that the chamber can take a lot of credit for the quality of life we now enjoy in Rutherford County. Residents have an opportunity to work at good jobs and send their children to some of the best schools in the Nation, not to mention enjoy all the recreational venues in the area. The chamber's economic development efforts have paid big dividends to the county. And the chamber's advocacy for the business community has been a positive influence in the Tennessee Legislature and has helped me in my legislative efforts in Congress.

The Rutherford County Chamber of Commerce is fortunate to have had so many strong, visionary members in its ranks. Through their leadership and hard work, they have been able to attract top-notch companies to the area. Nissan, for example, is located in Rutherford County. As the largest automaker in the world under one roof, Nissan not only provided thousands of good-paying jobs to the people of Rutherford County, but it also brought countless businesses that supply the automaker with a variety of parts and services.

Through a unique public and private partnership, the Rutherford County of Chamber of Commerce has become one of the best community advocates in the Nation. As the chamber celebrates its 75 years of existence, I commend the organization for all it has done to make Rutherford County such a desirable place to live and raise a family.

RECOGNIZING THE TEMECULA CITIZEN CORPS PROGRAM FOR ITS SERVICE TO THE CITIZENS OF THE CITY OF TEMECULA

HON. DARRELL E. ISSA

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and praise the people of the City of Temecula, who are doing their duty, as citizens, public servants, and elected officials, to make our homes and communities more secure. They have accomplished this through the Temecula Citizen Corps—an innovative new program that was inspired by President George Bush's 2002 State of the Union address. Two years ago, President Bush asked communities to take greater responsibility for their own emergency preparedness. The City of Temecula took this charge to heart and began building what has become a model program for local level homeland security concerns.

The Temecula Citizen Corps program coordinates the efforts of private citizens, neighborhood leaders, public safety agencies, and city officials, to enhance emergency and disaster preparedness. It has trained representatives from each neighborhood in the city on emergency notification methods, damage assessment, and special needs of community residents. It has also trained citizens in first aid, crime prevention, and neighborhood safety.

The program is designed to meet one of the critical homeland security needs: citizen self-sufficiency and self-reliance. In the immediate 72 hours following a disaster, emergency management agencies are often overwhelmed and unable to deal with all the needs of the affected communities. This program trains private citizens to provide basic emergency care for their own neighborhoods in the critical time immediately following a disaster.

The Temecula Citizen Corps has achieved such impressive results that the Department of Homeland Security considers it a standard setter for local communities. It has also won widespread praise throughout the Southern California region for its efficiency and quality of training and is inspiring many other cities and communities to follow its example. Last week, the men and women of Temecula were recognized publicly by the Secretary of Homeland Security, Tom Ridge, for the excellent program they have developed.

I am extremely proud of the City of Temecula for the dedication and effort they have invested in the Temecula Citizen Corps program. I am pleased to have had this opportunity to recognize them today and I encourage my colleagues to review their program as an example of what is possible when communities decide to take responsibility for their security needs.

HONORING DIANA MASON

HON. GEORGE MILLER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the career of my long-time friend and constituent Mrs. Diana Mason.

Diana began her career in 1963 after graduating from Diablo Valley College in Pleasant Hill, California. As a secretary in the engineering department of the United States Steel Corporation, Diana began what would be three decades of service to US Steel. Two years after her initial employment she transferred to the Industrial Engineering Department and finally in 1967 began working at the San Francisco corporate offices as secretary to the Director of Public Relations of Western States.

Diana continued her exemplary service and in 1979 was promoted to Executive Secretary to Plant Manager and returned to Pittsburg, CA. In 1986, US Steel merged with Pohang Steel Corporation of South Korea to become USS/POSCO Industries (UPI) and Diana began working as secretary to Mr. S.H. Yo, Executive Vice President of UPI.

In 1993, Diana became responsible for bringing UPI to the forefront of the community and began her new job as Manager of Community Relations. In this position she worked closely with the people and businesses of surrounding cities—Antioch, Oakley, and Brentwood.

In addition to her work for UPI, Diana supports several outreach programs including Junior Achievement, Project Read, Choices, and the Pittsburg Seafood Festival. She is also a member of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

For three decades Diana has dedicated her career to working for US Steel and later UPI. In October 2003, Diana ended her long and successful career and I would like to take the time today to congratulate her on a job well done. I will continue to enjoy my friendship with her and I have tremendous respect and appreciation for the work she has done on behalf of her company, its employees, and our community.

I encourage my colleagues in the House of Representatives to join me in acknowledging the career and dedication of Diana Mason.

RECOGNIZING THE SAN GABRIEL VALLEY NAACP AND THE CITY OF WEST COVINA FOR COMMEMORATING THE LIFE OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

HON. HILDA L. SOLIS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Ms. SOLIS. Mr. Speaker, I stand today to commend the work of the San Gabriel Valley National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and the city of West Covina for their 5th annual commemoration of the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Dr. King was a visionary leader who believed and dreamed of a color-blind society in America—a place where interracial and intercultural cooperation triumphs over hatred and ignorance. He helped awaken our nation's conscience of the racial injustice directed toward millions of Americans and reaffirmed our most cherished principle—the principle that all men and women are created equal.

During the 1960s, a time of great unrest, Dr. King emphasized the importance of using non-violence to achieve social and political advancement for all people. Dr. King understood that the means of achieving your goal was as important as the goal you were trying to achieve. Although we have made great strides toward achieving greater equality and opportunity for all since his death, we as a nation and as a people are still struggling to fulfill his dream, and we must do more.

According to Coretta Scott King, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday is not only a celebration of a man who brought hope and healing to America, but it is, above all, a day of service. In honor of Dr. King, let us remember to help the less fortunate, to fight against injustice, and live up to the principle of our great country.

I commend the work of the San Gabriel Valley NAACP and the city of West Covina for organizing the 5th annual celebration to pay tribute to the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Events like these remind us that Dr. King's fight is our fight, his dream is our dream, and that one day we will "judge a person by the content of their character and not the color of their skin." Let us keep his memory alive through our actions and deeds.

ADDRESSING THE RECENT "REFORM" OF THE MEDICARE SYSTEM

HON. WILLIAM D. DELAHUNT

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 21, 2004

Mr. DELAHUNT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to address the consequences of the Medicare legislation signed into law in December of last year. I must express my profound disappointment with the outcome of a process that originally promised so much hope. Throughout 2003, there was bipartisan enthusiasm and genuine momentum for change that would safeguard the Medicare system and ensure affordable prescription drugs for every American. It seemed as if we might finally make some real progress. Sadly, the Congress—under relentless pressure from the White House and the pharmaceutical industry—squandered the opportunity of a generation.

Some have characterized the new law as "better than nothing." Nothing could be further from the truth. This was bad legislation, enacted in an underhanded manner. It is extremely expensive, but does little to actually bring down out-of-pocket consumer costs. The consensus for reform was shredded in favor of a complicated system designed by lobbyists for the pharmaceutical industry.

Only a handful of congressional Members even saw the final 700-page document, made available barely an hour before floor debate. Although the bill was initially defeated after the normal 15-minute voting period, the Speaker simply refused to gavel the vote to a close. After more than three excruciating hours—the longest vote ever in the history of the U.S. Congress—he finally closed the vote only after enough arms were twisted to change the outcome. Even then, at 6 a.m. that Saturday in November, the bill passed by only five votes. And with the bill now law, the strongest defense from proponents seems to be: "Don't worry, no one has to sign up, it's all voluntary." That's hardly reassuring for millions of seniors in urgent need.

Because this "reform" does far more to inflate the Federal budget than to help senior citizens or the Medicare program, I voted against it. There is so much wrong with this package that it's hard to know where to begin.

First, it doesn't offer much real prescription drug coverage. To enroll in the new Part D coverage, you must pay an estimated $35 monthly premium—and still meet an annual $250 deductible. Up to $2,200, you also pay 25 percent of the drug costs. After that, you face a coverage gap (the infamous "doughnut hole") where you pay 100 percent until costs reach $5,044. In other words, older and disabled people will have to spend nearly $4,000 for the first $5,000 of annual coverage—paying nearly 80 percent of their prescription drug costs to get any substantial benefit at all. And, these are only first-year estimates; the out-of-pocket cost is expected to rise every year thereafter.

Incredibly, however, if you participate in the new prescription drug benefit, you will not be permitted to buy any kind of supplemental insurance (like Medigap) to cover your share of the costs. Medicare will cover only drugs on a list of preferred "formulary" medicines; and drugs purchased outside the list will not be counted toward your deductible.

On top of all that, the new benefit doesn't even take effect until the year 2006, more than 2 years away. This fact was scarcely mentioned by the bill's proponents during the congressional debate. Seniors need help now, not cynical and uncertain promises for later.

In the meantime, the interim discount cards paraded by the administration promise only small savings for the consumer—if you can figure out how they work. It's not clear who
